Theobald & Brandt

L. BLOMBERG'S TOYLAND.

The history of the business of the Blomberg Sporting Store and Toyland shop is one of interest and expansion. L. Blomberg opened business at the present stand in 1887, the room then occupied being about 12x12 feet while today there is a floor space of approximately 7,000 square feet. The building has been remodeled from time to time and the interior is undergoing great changes at present, now giving two floors for the various departments. For many years this store has been recognized as one of the leading places for tobacco, cigars and sporting goods, but the tobacco line was recently discontinued and special attention given to toy goods. A complete line of toy goods for the children is carried together with Xmas tree ornaments, toilet sets for men and women, leather goods, sporting goods, smoking sets, etc. Blomberg's is one of the leading stores of the kind in the State and a largely assorted stock of goods can be found here at popular prices, announcement of which is contained in this issue of the Hustler-Democrat.

PRINTING ANOTHER PAPER.

(Polk County News.) This issue of the News is the first week that it has not been printed on its own hand Washington Press in nearly 20 years, but this press now needs repairs, and while they are being made the News will be set up and printed in the up-to-date printing plant of the Mutual Printing Co., Hendersonville.

We hope our readers will like the new Christmas dress we are issuing it in for the present, and try and send us every week, all the news items of your several neighborhoods that we may have the news to print for you.

GLENN MAILING LETTERS.

Notwithstanding the fact that almost every one in Washington is convinced that ex-Governor Glenn has been offered an office as interstate commerce commissioner, and that he has tentatively accepted word comes from the state that voters are daily receiving letters from Mr. Glenn asking if he can depend on their support in case he runs for the senate. This has created a feeling that Mr. Glenn, perhaps decided in his own mind that he would rather be United States senator and believe he can gain election.

Old newspapers can be applied to numerous purposes. They cost only a trifle, five cents a package, at the Democrat-Hustler office.

H. L. FINKELSTEIN, LOAN OFFICE.

In addition to favoring the man who is down and out and wants a little money for his wares, the Finkelstein loan office on South Main street, Asheville, handles a high-grade of new and up-to-date line of jewelry, leather goods, trunks, sporting goods, musical instruments, etc. This store has met with remarkable success during its ten years of business in Asheville and as a result it recently doubled its store capacity, now giving two large store rooms. It is one of the biggest stores of the kind in the South and it is here that bargains are found in undervalued goods at the most reasonable prices. In addition to these strictly new and first-class goods can be found here in many lines of trade as the store carries an enormous stock of most anything that a man can ask for. The holiday announcement of this firm is contained in the current issue of the Hustler-Democrat.

LOCAL GOOD ROADS WORK.

Better Roads, an influential good roads magazine published at Jamestown, O., carries a general but interesting review of the good roads progress in Western North Carolina, furnished by Secretary N. Buckner of the Asheville board of trade. Out of the sixty-four pages in the magazine one article with illustrations in different mountain sections occupies seven pages, and in addition to this there are a number of shorter articles and illustrations, some of which show Governor Craig putting in effective road service. The article as a whole make a good showing for this section.

DECISION IN POWER CASE AWAITED WITH INTEREST

Supreme Court to Render Decision in Power Development Case Appealed From Henderson Court.

(Solicitor Michael Schenck and W. A. Smith have returned from Raleigh where they argued the case of the Blue Ridge Interurban company against the Hendersonville Light and Power company before the Supreme court, which is expected to hand down a decision this week. This case was appealed from the Superior court of Henderson county last summer, after a lengthy hearing with reference to condemning certain water powers belonging to the local company for the purpose of erecting power dams for development purposes in this section.

The decision of the Supreme court is awaited with much interest in that it is believed gigantic developments are under consideration, and will be determined by this decision.

Attorneys J. H. Merrimon, J. J. Britt, of Asheville and Michael Schenck of this city argued the case for the Hendersonville Light and Power company. Attorneys Tillett of Charlotte, Manning of Raleigh and Smith of Hendersonville appearing before the Supreme court for the interurban company.

I. X. L. DEPARTMENT STORE.

The I. X. L. Department store on Patton avenue, Asheville, of which S. H. Michalove is proprietor and manager, is wholesale and retail dealer in general merchandise, and importer of fancy China and bric-a-brac toys, tea and dinner sets, tinware, light hardware, crockery, frames, etc. Mr. Michalove has been in business in Asheville for many years and his business has a steady growth. His store is one of the leaders of its kind and some idea as to the assortment and the class of his goods can be found in the fact that his dinner sets range in prices from $4.50 to $385 per set. There is always a large demand for the class of goods carried by this store and as a result the business is rapidly growing. The holiday announcement of the I. X. L. is contained in the current issue of the Hustler-Democrat.

LAUNDRY CONTINUES OPERATION.

In order to give their customers prompt and more satisfactory service the Hendersonville steam laundry will be operated during the coming winter. For the past few years the plant discontinued operations and the management had the work done in Asheville during the winter. While the operation of the plant this winter will hardly be a paying investment, an effort will be made to run it until the summer, when the business will reach most anything that a man can ask for. The holiday announcement of this firm is contained in the current issue of the Hustler-Democrat.

BRIDGE PARTY.

One of the most delightful events of the week was the auction bridge party given by Mrs. Henry King to the members of the club. Tables were arranged in the parlors, which were beautifully decorated for the event with red carnations and ferns. There were four tables, the highest score was made by Miss Florrie Morris, who received the first prize, a beautiful pair of silk hose. The second prize was won by Mrs. Lila Barnwell, it being a silver picture frame. Miss Charlotte Erson was consoled with a hand made red pin cushion. At the close of the game a delicious luncheon was served, the color scheme being carried out in the refreshments. The souvenirs were red carnations. Those playing were: Mesdames, Charles St. John, Harold Feaman, Gordon Garlington, R. P. Frieze, Lila R. Barnwell, Mattie S. Candler, Henry Webster, Preston Patton, Misses Florrie Morris, Alma Lee Edwards, Dell Davis, Brownie Morris, Charlotte Erson, Mary St. John, Ruby Holliday, the latter of New York.

HUSTLER-DEMOCRAT SECOND TO NO WEEKLY PAPER IN STATE.

Commissioner Shipman Says the Paper Improves With Each Issue and Stands in Class to Self.

"I consider the paper second to no weekly in the State and it improves with every issue. The people ought to appreciate it whether they do or not."

The foregoing is an extract from a letter from Commissioner of Labor and Printing M. L. Shipman, former editor of the Hustler-Democrat and at present editorial contributor.

For a friend or relative at a distance nothing would be more appropriate as a Christmas gift than a subscription to the Hustler-Democrat.

FOR CORN GROWING BOYS.

Messrs. Millsaps, Brown and Perkins Will Attend Meeting at Court House

E. S. Millsaps, district agent of the farm demonstration work, and T. E. Brown, superintendent of the boys' corn club will be in Hendersonville for the purpose of judging the products of the boys' corn club contests in Henderson county for the past year, on December 12.

Interesting addresses on the corn club work will be delivered at the court house at 11 o'clock in the forenoon and at 7:30 o'clock at Dana in the evening.

At the meeting to be held at the court house the awards for work of the past year will be made and plans for the work of the coming year fully outlined to the young farmers of Henderson county.

As this meeting will be of especial interest to the boys on the farms it is desired that there be a full attendance. County Farm Demonstrator E. L. Perkins will be present with the other officials.

A year's subscription to the Hustler-Democrat would make a most appropriate Christmas gift.

DEDICATION SERMON.

The dedication sermon of the new Baptist church near Mount Helton will be delivered at the church building on the second Sunday, December 14, by Rev. A. V. Reese. The public is cordially invited to attend as business in connection with the church will be transacted.

M. S. McCARSON,
WM. MINTZ, Trustees.

For a friend or relative at a distance nothing would be more appropriate as a Christmas gift than a subscription to the Hustler-Democrat.

C. E. HENDERSON, JEWELER.

Chas. E. Henderson has been in the jewelry business nearly all his life and for a long number of years has been doing business in Asheville with the result that his number of customers has constantly increased until today he enjoys some of the very best trade in Western North Carolina. For repair work and engraving better satisfaction would be difficult to find and the line of clocks, watches, and silver and gold of all kinds is complete and among the very best to be found in the ordinary jewelry shop. Mr. Henderson's marked efficiency in this line has made for him a growing trade which will be interested in his holiday announcement in the current issue of the Hustler-Democrat.
